New Visitors From Sameness

We are Elsewhere

By Carla Rose

Jonas and Gabriel, outsiders from the Sameness congregation, were found on the east side of Mainland. Early this morning, Night Guards report that there was a dark figure staggering on the side of Titan's Hill. Moments later another Night Guard saw him sitting in the snow, slowly sliding down the hill with something in his arms. Upon inspecting the new stranger, they observed a baby in his arms.

The Guards recall him saying, "There's music. There's music over there," repeatedly. Confused, he asked, "Is this Elsewhere?" Dehydrated and suffering from malnutrition, the boy Jonas, thirteen, carried a two-year-old toddler, Gabriel 128 miles from Sameness to the Mainland. Jonas and Gabriel have survived Sameness and the troubling journey here.

Adrian Michaels, leading news contributor, spoke with Jonas today. Jonas described his journey as, "Exhausting. it was my first time starving, but that's the price I had to pay." Jonas explains, "I had to keep going. For Gabriel, for The Giver, and for myself. I wish that everyone else at home could know." Leaders are undergoing investigations of what Jonas' calls, "the Giver."

Jonas and Gabriel are under our most experienced doctor's supervision and will be staying at Townsview Healing Center.
